Quick Start Guide Washington Latin Tech Platforms

Washington Latin uses several tech platforms to store information about individual students (grades, attendance) and classes (homework, guizzes, tests, etc.) Parents/guardians can also use these platforms to track their children's progress (grades) and see what is coming up in their classes.

This tech guide breaks down how to use each system. See the summary below and detailed instructions on the following pages.

You use PowerSchool to:

- Re-enroll your child each spring •
- See their current courses and class schedule
- Check their current grades •
- Check grades from past school years

Google Classroom

Google Classroom is where our teachers share information with students about their classes. Every Washington Latin teacher has a Google Classroom for each class they teach. Students in that class are invited to join the classroom to get assignments, test schedule, etc.

Parents can also see this information in Google Classroom after signing up for email updates. Check the invitation that was emailed on Friday 8/28 to all parents/guardians. The email updates will provide links to the Google Classroom page for each class.

You use Google Classroom to:

- Review the class syllabus
- See current and past assignments
- Review test and guiz schedules

Where do I find ...?

My child's attendance records?

You will be sent a weekly report via DeansList that provides detailed information about your child's attendance for the week. Check your email!

My child's behavioral data?

As with attendance, we will send you a weekly report via DeansList that describes any behavioral "incidents" (for example, cell phone violations, being out of uniform, or more serious incidents). For major violations of Latin's code of conduct, a member of our team will contact the parents/guardians directly.
